TEACHERS' UNION IS ATTACKED

Another Move to Oust its Members in Chicago.

Federation Leaders Accuse Loeb as Instigator.

Plan for Annual Election Rouses Miss Haley.

(BY DEWITT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 6.—Another fight to oust from the ranks of Chicago's public school teachers all who are members of the Chicago Teachers' Federation is seen by the federation leaders in the latest action on the part of the Rules Committee on the Board of Education, dominated by President Jacob M. Loeb, author of the Loeb rule and trustee Ernest J. Krueger, which has passed a rule providing that the tenure of office of all teachers shall hereafter be only one year. The new rule will come before the full board for action tomorrow's meeting and is certain to meet with determined opposition.

Technically, teachers have been re-elected annually in June, but President Loeb announced to the Rules Committee that it is the intention of the framers of this rule that "inefficient" educators be dropped. It is said several hundred teachers will be dropped in June if the rule goes through and that the real test of efficiency will be non-membership in the federation.

When Mrs. William Gallagher opposed immediate action by the Rules Committee, President Loeb asked Chairman Krueger to permit him to speak.

"There are 7500 teachers in the system," said Mr. Loeb, "and there is never a dismissal. No matter how inefficient a teacher may be, she hangs on to her job until she dies of old age. If any business firm did this with its employees it would go bankrupt."

"This is merely another subterfuge of Mr. Loeb to oust federation teachers," said Margaret Haley, business agent of the federation today.

RAILROADS HINT AT COMPROMISE.

CHAIRMAN LEE SAYS WAGE DISPUTE CAN BE SETTLED.

Employees' Leaders Finish Presentation of Their Case Before Conference and Hear Position of the Employers' Delegation—Over-time the Stumbling Block.

(BY A. P. KIMM WIRE.)

NEW YORK, June 6.—An compromise in the railroad's view of the way the difference between them and their 450,000 employees should be settled. This was hinted at today's session of the conference of railroad and union representatives in this city when, on the completion of the presentation of the men's case, the railroads defined their position.

Speaking for the railroads Eliza Lee, chairman of the conference, said:

"The present schedule of pay and conditions are the lowest possible rate; your proposition is the high level. Now there are two levels this thing is bound to be settled."

Asked later in the day what significance the railroads were giving to the men's case, Mr. Stone and Mr. Garretson, representing the employees, declared that it was plain the railroads were striving to effect a compromise. They would not discuss the possibility of the settlement of the men's demands in this manner other than to say that if a compromise offer is made it would be put to a vote of the employees. In the event of the offer being voted down, Mr. Garretson explained, it will then be incumbent on the railroads to vote on a general strike.

The railroad managers authorized statement that in the event of a general strike they are prepared to cope with the situation. They announced tonight with an address in the lecture-room of the public museum by Dr. F. M. Potter, Monrovia, Cal., on "Tuberculosis, a Curable Disease."

ENGLAND LOSES BEST SOLDIER.

Kitchener's Military Genius Made Him Napoleon's Hero.

Known as Man of Steel and Impenetrable Personality.

Born in Ireland of French and British Parentage.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, June 6.—Earl Kitchener was appointed Secretary of State for War on August 8, 1914, a few days after Great Britain's declaration of war on Germany. He was regarded as England's greatest soldier, and the decision of the government to entrust him with supreme direction of the war was received with unanimous approval.

As the war progressed and Great Britain's deficiencies in certain directions, particularly in regard to the shortage of artillery ammunition, became apparent, Earl Kitchener was selected to direct the war effort, led by Lord Northcliffe, the Secretary of the War Office, and as a result the Ministry of Munitions was formed with David Lloyd George at its head.

Earl Kitchener's responsibilities were further increased by the appointment of Gen. Sir William Robertson as Chief of the Imperial Staff in December of last year. It was reported at that time that Kitchener and Robertson had been quarreling for some time, and the British forces in France, shortly after the appointment of Gen. Robertson, were in a state of confusion.

Notwithstanding the criticism directed against Earl Kitchener, his great accomplishments during the war are recognized universally. His greatest achievement was the creation of England's untrained manhood of a huge army. At the beginning of the war, the British army had only a few hundred thousand trained men. Today more than 1,000,000 men are in the ranks of the British army.

There have been no recent reports of Earl Kitchener's movements. He has been mentioned in the cable dispatches of Friday when he went to Westminster Palace to be questioned by members of the House of Commons, who were not satisfied with the conduct of the war. No intimation was given that he intended to leave England.

SCENE OF DISASTER.

The Orkney Islands, off which the Hampshire went down, are the north coast of Scotland. The Hampshire was on her way into the Atlantic and around the northern end of the Scandinavian Peninsula into the North Sea.

The Hampshire was one of the Devonshire class of six cruisers. She was built in 1902 and normally carried 615 men. She displaced 3,533 tons, was 450 feet long, 63½ feet beam and drew 25½ feet. She was armed with four 12-inch 6-inch, two 1-pound and twenty 3-pound guns, and carried 1,000 torpedoes. She cost $4,350,000.

The Hampshire has been in use as a transport ship since the outbreak of the war. She was carrying 1,000 troops and 1,000 tons of supplies when she was sunk.

She was sunk by a submarine on June 1, 1916, off the Orkney Islands. The ship was carrying 1,000 troops and 1,000 tons of supplies when she was sunk.

the world has ever seen, in the greatest war of all times.

Within the year from the outbreak of the European war in August, 1914, the ranks of British fighting men were quadrupled by an increase from less than 1,000,000 to nearly 4,000,000.

All these great powers that entered the war had huge standing armies and compulsory military service. Great Britain alone faced the issue with confidence that its people could readily respond to the call of King and country without compulsion, and the precipitous decision that led to the war found both the people and the government unanimous in the verdict that Kitchener was the man to lead in the recruiting and organization of the necessary army.

It was a sentimental clamor, for though Kitchener was a proven hero of many campaigns, his personality was as impenetrable as his steel, and he was not a hero that could be loved; even the War Office had no pronounced liking for him, but on all sides there was profound respect for the military efficiency and for all he had done to extend the dominion of the British Empire.

By mere luck Kitchener happened to be in England on one of the comparatively rare visits he had made to London during his long career abroad, when the European war broke out. He had just come home from service as British agent in Egypt, had accepted an Earldom from King George, and was being sent to India to take up his duties as Viceroy. He was in a few hours after England's declaration of war, Kitchener was appointed Secretary of State for War and immediately took full charge at the War Office, where he worked day and night. The Secretary of the War Office, which the central powers had hoped would be the matter of Kitchener's military efficiency.

He grimly told the British people they had a bigger war on their hands than they realized, and one that might last longer than they expected, but it was to be faced with confidence, and he, Kitchener, almost like a dehumanized machine, set about to make things hum. He had scarcely moved into Whitehall when he made numerous changes in the personnel of the War Office, which was said to be honeycombed with social and political favoritism.

RECRUITING BEGINS.

After dispatching a few hundred thousand regulars to France and Belgium to help check the onrushing Germans, the War Secretary began recruiting the British army of millions. The British were covered with signs and posters beginning with the words "Join the army."

Kitchener went through the country superintending the drilling of the army. He was the greatest of the British people that he wanted to get the number of men he wanted, but within a year after the war opened, Kitchener officially announced in Parliament that about 1,000,000 men had enlisted in the United Kingdom alone, and almost another million in the overseas dominions.

Kitchener, however, was the object of no little criticism. There was much grumbling because of the manner in which he had handled the newspapers and his utter disregard for war correspondents. Notwithstanding these criticisms, however, his great achievements were recognized universally.

His greatest achievement was the creation of England's untrained manhood of a huge army. At the beginning of the war, the British army had only a few hundred thousand trained men. Today more than 1,000,000 men are in the ranks of the British army.

There have been no recent reports of Earl Kitchener's movements. He has been mentioned in the cable dispatches of Friday when he went to Westminster Palace to be questioned by members of the House of Commons, who were not satisfied with the conduct of the war. No intimation was given that he intended to leave England.

SCENE OF DISASTER.

The Orkney Islands, off which the Hampshire went down, are the north coast of Scotland. The Hampshire was on her way into the Atlantic and around the northern end of the Scandinavian Peninsula into the North Sea.

The Hampshire was one of the Devonshire class of six cruisers. She was built in 1902 and normally carried 615 men. She displaced 3,533 tons, was 450 feet long, 63½ feet beam and drew 25½ feet. She was armed with four 12-inch 6-inch, two 1-pound and twenty 3-pound guns, and carried 1,000 torpedoes. She cost $4,350,000.

The Hampshire has been in use as a transport ship since the outbreak of the war. She was carrying 1,000 troops and 1,000 tons of supplies when she was sunk.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD

To Wed in Chicago.

Nettie M. Tibbs, 25, of this city, and William H. Page, 25, of Fort Smith, Ark., were licensed to marry in Chicago yesterday.

Judge to Speak.

Superior Judge McCormick will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Jovian Electric League at noon today, Jahnke's Tavern, No. 224 South Spring street.

A Far North Reunion.

The Alaska-Tukon Society will have a social reunion Friday evening in the Times Assembly Hall. All sons and daughters of the Far North are invited to attend.

On Boys at 'Dang' Age.

Mrs. Charles Wade will address the mothers of the Slauson-avenue playground district at the playground clubhouse at 2 o'clock this afternoon on "The Boy at the 'Dang' Age." This is the second of a series of talks by Mrs. Wade on boys and girls.

The Economic Question.

Rev. William Carr is to address the Federation of Catholic Societies on Wednesday evening, June 14, on the subject of "The Economic Question." Father Carr's recent address before the Brownson House Club has been attracting much attention and favorable comment.

Knight's Open Meeting.

Fourth degree members of the Knights of Columbus will hold an open meeting tomorrow night in the Council chamber to which an invitation is extended to Catholics and non-Catholics. Rev. James A. Reardon, rector of St. Anthony's Church, Long Beach, will lecture on "The Attitude of the Church Toward Materialism." A fine musical program has been arranged.

To Give Entertainment.

The Echo Park-avenue school's Parent-Teacher Association will give an entertainment Friday evening at the schoolhouse. The officers of the association, which was organized three months ago, are Mrs. Edith Page, president; Mrs. Freda McNeill, vice-president; Mrs. Mary Hansen, secretary, and Mrs. Lillian Smith, treasurer.

Original Concert.

Students of the harmony class of the Los Angeles High School will render a program of original musical compositions in the assembly hall at that institution this morning. The work has been prepared under the direction of Miss Rose M. Chapman of the faculty and is said to be remarkable, considering the age and training of the students.

Jobs at Harbor.

Applications for civil service examinations for carpenters, cement workers, concrete finishers, motor-truck drivers, engineers, foremen and inspectors will be received at the office of the civil service secretary, room 722 Central building, until the 18th inst. The purpose of the examination is to secure an eligible list for the carpenters and concrete finishers being practically exhausted. The place of employment is at Los Angeles Harbor.

Given Seven Years.

Fullerton Engineer Pleads Guilty to White-Slave Charge.

Frank Garney, engineer of the Fullerton waterworks, who was arrested here some weeks ago on a white-slave charge, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Anderson in Indianapolis and was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary, according to information received here yesterday by Assistant United States District Attorney O'Connor.

It developed during the course of the trial, according to the information received here, that the girl he brought to Fullerton as his wife and by whom he had a child, knew all about his previous marital relations. In coming West, Garney deserted a wife and a family of eleven children.

Embarrassment Case.

The preliminary hearing of charges alleging embarrassment of $44 from the Klammer-Wangenheim Company by Albert Greenwood, former auditor for the company, was resumed yesterday before Justice Brown. Practically the entire day was given over to inspection of accounts by expert auditors, who testified regarding the discrepancies found in the books. Attorneys Shannon and Vetch were able to bring into question very much of the expert testimony produced by Deputy District Attorney Stafford. The hearing will require considerable more time and will be continued through today.

Business Brevitvies.

QUEEN SAINT ELLA'S SANITY QUESTIONED.

TO APPEAR BEFORE LUNACY COMMISSION TOMORROW.

Negroes Who have been Making Profanations of Religious Ideals is Charged with Being Victim of Hallucinations—Has Large Following of Girls.

"Queen St. Ella," the high priestess of a queer religious cult started by herself, was landed in the County Jail yesterday afternoon on an insanity charge. Deputy Sheriff Mrs. Nettie Yaw made the arrest of the colored woman, whose real name is Mrs. Ella Smith.

She was followed to jail by about twenty of her faithful ones, mostly girls and some of these white. They all maintained that their leader was a victim of persecution and joined her in shouting "hallelujahs" and "amens" as the barred gate of the prison closed on her.

The hunky negroes were arrested at her home, No. 923 East Thirty-third street, yesterday afternoon on an insanity charge. In which she wore white embroidered robes and an artificial halo. The halo was removed, but she was allowed to remain in her snowy garb when taken to prison.

During the past few weeks she has been making many startling prophecies and profanations of religious ideas. Despite her wild assertions, she has attracted a large following of her own color and incidentally a goodly number of white persons.

The complaint against her was sworn to by Mrs. M. M. Warren, her daughter, and among other things alleges that Mrs. Smith, or "Queen St. Ella," is a victim of religious hallucinations. She will be taken before the Lunacy Commission tomorrow and is now in the psychiatric ward at the County Hospital.

TO GREAT PASTOR.

Dr. Locke's flock will welcome him home today.

Dr. Charles Edward Locke, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, who was the recipient of many votes in the ballot for election of bishops at the recent general conference at Saratoga Springs, will return home today.

Dr. Locke will arrive on the Santa Fe train at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Arrangements have been made for the assembling of many members of the church and congregation at the railroad station, where there will be informal speaking, music and a general demonstration of welcome.

A reception will also be given Dr. and Mrs. Locke in the First Methodist Church, Sixth and Hill streets, on Friday evening, June 16.

SUNDAY ACCEPTS.

Ministers' Committee Reports Result of Visit to East.

The committee of ministers composed of Revs. Day, Francis, Campbell, Thripp, Prichard, Wilson, Schaefer and Eby, who went to Kansas City recently to extend an invitation to Billy Sunday to come to Los Angeles and hold a two-months' evangelistic campaign, made a report to the Ministers' Union and the Los Angeles Church Federation yesterday.

The committee stated that Sunday definitely accepted the invitation, but requested a short time within which to adjust dates already made. "It was stated that he probably would come here some time in 1917."

The committee stated that it hopes this will increase enthusiasm in the last week of the Brown and Curry revival meetings.

BURNING ITCHING PIMPLES ON BACK

Of Shoulders and Neck. Large and Hard. Walked Floor Most of the Time. In Ten Days

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My trouble began with pimples on the back of my shoulders and neck. I paid no attention to them until they began itching and when I rubbed them they would get sore and burn. The pimples were large and hard, and would not go off. The burning and itching were so bad that I walked the floor most of the time, and almost cried. I could not get my clothing touch me and I lost sleep because the pimples were so sore."

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it helped so I bought more. It was about ten days before I was healed." (Signed) Miss E. M. Spina, 1728 2nd St. Col., June 7, 1915.

Sample Each Free by Mail with 25c. Send back request. Address post-paid envelope to: Cuticura Dept., P. O. Box 100, Lowell, Mass. Sold throughout the world.

As of Old, THE FEAST OF WEEKS.

Congregation Beth Israel observes Jewish Pentecost with Sermons and Prayers—Cereemonials Celebrate the Birth of Judaism.

Congregation Beth Israel celebrated the Jewish Pentecost, or Feast of Weeks, last evening in the synagogue at Olive and Temple streets. The celebration will be continued with sermons and prayers.

Rabbi Isaac Werne will conduct these services. His sermon at 8:30 p.m. this morning will be on "The Importance of Religion and the Truths it Contains." His subject for the afternoon service will be "Morality and Immorality."

The name Pentecost is derived from the fact that it is celebrated seven weeks after the sacred day of the Passover. All biblical injunctions as to the manner in which the feast was to be celebrated indicate that it was originally agricultural in its character. It was, in reality, a season of thanksgiving for the harvest that had been reaped.

In post-biblical times this feast was observed as the anniversary of the birth of Judaism with the promulgation of the divine law of Moses and the giving of the tablets of the law.

In addition to a portion of the Pentateuch, the charming story of Ruth was prescribed for the synagogue, because the idyllic scene of harvesting which it contains was in keeping with the harvest feast.

HELD TO ANSWER.

The sale of a real estate manufacturing business by D. K. Stream is alleged to have been nothing more than obtaining money under false pretenses, and after a preliminary hearing along this line before Justice Haney yesterday morning the defendant was bound over to the Superior Court on bond of $1000, which was furnished. Deputy District Attorney Harwood handled the prosecution. The charges against Stream were filed by Chandler & Edwards.

Advancing Southern Metropolis.

XXV YEAR.

PROPOSED NEW CITY CHARTER IS DECISIVELY DEFEATED AT THE POLLS.

ALL BOND ISSUES ARE REJECTED BY VOTERS.

Annexations Carry; Two-platoon Repeal Loses; Sale of Water Refused.

Following are the complete results from 453 of the 683 precincts in the city on the proposed new city charter election held yesterday, the result was decisive and can leave no doubt as to the general sentiment toward the fifteen propositions.

The defeat of the proposed new charter by probably more than 7000 votes was overwhelming, but the majority against it would have been even greater had everyone made an intelligent study of its many vicious provisions.

Proponents of the voluminous document waged a determined campaign, but were careful not to enlighten the people. They realized that to hoodwink the voters into supporting the instrument it was necessary to keep them ignorant of the facts. That they failed is established by the result. The people demonstrated their aversion to one-man government, a civil service system that would operate against public policy and the reckless expenditure of money.

Propositions providing for bonds to extend the sewer outfall system and construct a tunnel through Second street were voted down, undoubtedly because they were included with three other proposals involving near $10,000,000. That the tunnel and sewer propositions were meritorious is the opinion of many, but their defeat was anticipated in view of the heavy load they were compelled to carry.

ALL BONDS LOSE.

A majority of two-thirds is necessary to carry a bond election and none of the propositions involving the issuance of bonds as much as the attempt of F. J. Wilken and others to get the sanction of the people for the sale of aqueduct water to corporations or municipalities outside of Los Angeles was voted down. The vote against the sale of water to Santa Monica, Hawthorne and the Mutual Water Association was nearly 3 to 1.

The plea of the citizens of West Los Angeles and Occidental, who voted against the sale of water to Los Angeles was welcomed, both propositions carrying by substantial majorities.

Proposition No. 4, for district representation in the Council and one of the alternatives to the proposed charter, apparently received a majority, but cannot become effective because of the defeat of the charter. For any of the four alternatives to win it was necessary that the charter also be adopted.

FOR SEWER, ANYWAY.

When it became apparent that the proposed sale of $1,000,000 for the sewerage disposal plant at Hyperion and the harbor were defeated, President Beckwith of the City Council said that despite the adverse vote it will be necessary to make extensive improvements in the system immediately.

"We will have to appropriate from the general fund $1,000,000 to put a sewer through the hills this year," said Councilman Beckwith. "We have spent about $24,000 in making temporary provisions for taking care of the sewage this year, and although for want of sufficient funds we cannot put in a septic tanks at the present time, we will have to take care of immediate needs now."

Councilman Wheeler, chairman of the Council Finance Committee, said that the defeat of the sewer disposal and the Second-street tunnel bond propositions will make necessary a revision of the plans of the Budget Committee.

"The Board of Health has ordered the city to do the right thing in the matter of sewerage disposal and this order must be obeyed," said Councilman Wheeler. "We will have to work out the details later, but the work remains to be done and the city of Los Angeles must bear the expense. As to the Second-street tunnel the matter will be put up to the property owners in the assessment district."

CALL HIM BANKRUPT.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy against O. R. Aldrich, former postmaster at Prado, Riverside county, in the vicinity of Corona, was filed in the United States District Court yesterday by J. R. Newberry, who is a creditor to the extent of $2791.40; Newberry-Parker Company, with bill for $111.12, and F. Bottiller, a creditor for $50. It is alleged that Aldrich left the country on the night of May 22, 1916, and took with him an automobile and a sum of money; also, that he has been guilty of numerous acts of bankruptcy. Aldrich is alleged to be short in his accounts at the Prado postoffice to the extent of $1438.37, and his wife is now in temporary charge of the office.

HIS SHOES ARE THE EVIDENCE.

No Others Big Enough, so Alleged Murderer's in Court in His Socks.

Because his shoes are among the state's principal exhibits against him and because there are no others in the County Jail big enough for him, Lon Hadley, accused of the murder of John McGovern, came to his trial before Judge Craig yesterday in his stocking feet.

It was partly because of the extraordinary size of the footprints of the slayer of McGovern, who was killed by a burglar in his home at Seventh and Mateo streets on the night of April 3, that Hadley, who has enormous feet, was taken into custody. His shoes were taken as evidence and most of Hadley's time in the County Jail has been spent barefooted, the jailers being unable to find footwear large enough for him.

Other serious charges are pending against Hadley. The murder trial was continued until this morning to summon witnesses.

The slayer of McGovern received a majority. The vote against the telephone bonds was most decisive, the ratio being about 12 to 1, while against the sewer bonds was 3 to 1; tunnel, 8 to 1; fire engine houses, 2 to 1, and the fire alarm and police telephone systems the same.

The firemen were especially jubilant over their 12-1 victory. The vote showed that the people meant what they said a year ago when they voted in favor of the two-platoon system.

WATER SALE REFUSED.

The attempt of F. J. Wilken and others to get the sanction of the people for the sale of aqueduct water to corporations or municipalities outside of Los Angeles was voted down. The vote against the sale of water to Santa Monica, Hawthorne and the Mutual Water Association was nearly 3 to 1.

Sioux Redskins to Carry Significant Banner in Preparedness Parade.

The Sioux Indians of Inceville, who will take part in the preparedness parade, June 14, will carry a banner bearing the inscription: "If we had been properly prepared you would not be a nation today." The banner will make up a unit in the Santa Monica contingent of the parade, which will be a big one.

STRANGE TALE OF KIDNAPING.

Wealthy Boston Woman Began Police Assistance.

Says Dying Husband Seeks to Get the Children.

Tells of Refusing Quarter of Million for Them.

The Peabody children, for whom $250,000 is said to have been offered by relatives of the father if the mother would give them up, are permanently separated at last. Their mother, an Englishwoman of prominent family, came to the Police Station yesterday with her report that the daughter had been kidnapped while attending a private school in San Francisco.

No more remarkable case has ever been reported to the police than that which Mrs. Peabody related at length yesterday. She declared her husband, Francis C. Peabody, member of the famous and wealthy Boston family, is dying in an Ottawa (Can.) hospital. Ten months ago Mrs. Peabody alleged the father said he would get the children from their mother.

This declaration seemed to have been prophetic in April, when Miss Victoria Peabody disappeared from the home of a Mrs. Belknap, No. 590 Fifth avenue, Richmond, Cal. Since then the mother has never heard from her daughter, she said, adding that Mrs. Belknap refused to answer any inquiries about the girl. Lieut. Chapman of the police department wired the San Francisco police yesterday, and received a reply saying the girl had gone to her father in Ottawa.

Mrs. Amy Peabody, the mother of the children, and who now has the custody of her son, George Oliver Vincent Francis John Peabody, said to be the only male heir to the Peabody fortune, is now living at No. 603 Flower street, Inglewood.

Clinchings which she has in her possession describe her marriage to Francis C. Peabody, seven years ago, as being the smartest social occasion of the season, and described the wedding ceremony in "The Boston Herald."

In relating her troubles, Mrs. Peabody said: "I lived with my husband until it became a physical impossibility to continue. He abused me for years. He received considerable amounts of money from the estates of the George Peabody and the late Francis Peabody. We had many means."

When she was a girl, she developed. Fortunes have been spent upon my husband in an effort to get a cure, but the disease has remained so far now there is no hope. At the command of the family doctor I left my husband and took my two children with me. At that time he said he would get control of the children, but they were all I had and I held to them. I was given an allowance. Then other members of the family attempted to buy my children, offering me any sum I cared to mention. One figure was $250,000. I rejected all such offers. "I received my allowance as usual, my daughter taken from me, and I don't know when they will come any more to take my boy."

She has guarded her boy so zealously she sleeps in the same room with him at night, and never permits him out of her sight. The boy is an unusually healthy, rugged child.

SEVEN THOUSAND WOMEN IN PREPAREDNESS PARADE.

Two-mile Line of March Decided on by Those in Charge of Great Flag Day Demonstration—Ninth and Spring to First and Back to Twelfth on Broadway—Marshals of Different Divisions are Named.

FOLLOWING is the line of march of the great preparedness parade to be held a week from today: The parade will form on Los Angeles street, south of Ninth street. The marchers will report to their division commanders, who will be given their locations in which to form. Grand Marshal Dyas, with his chief of staff, Stuart O'Melveny, and chief of aides, Irwin J. Muma, will take their places at Ninth and Los Angeles streets. Moving west on Ninth street, the column will proceed to Spring. Turning north, the line of march will take them to First street, where they will again turn west. At Broadway the column will move south, continuing along this street to its intersection with Main street and on to Twelfth street. Here the marchers will disband. The line of march is twenty-one blocks long, or about two miles.

With the exception of the grand marshal, his chief-of-staff, and eleven aides, every one of the thousands of recruits for the monster preparedness parade to be held a week from today will be compelled to march in every sense of the word. There will be no automobiles nor carriages, and only the thirteen horses allotted to the above-named officials will be permitted in line. This rule will be applied in force to every marcher, whether he be millionaire, jurist, layman or official, as those in charge believe the greatest proof of faith in preparedness will be evidenced by the marchers if they are prepared to walk.

It is expected there will be about 7000 women participating in the parade according to Mrs. Josephine E. Galbreath, who will be in charge of that division. To date about 1000 women have notified her of their intention to march. Mrs. Galbreath has enlisted the support of the various women's patriotic and social organizations and their response has been unanimously enthusiastic.

"We will all carry flags," said she, "and the women's division in the Los Angeles preparedness parade will rank among the first in the country. Every woman who has enlisted has promised to go as many of her friends as possible. Within the next few days I hope to be able to announce the names of several prominent women who will act as aides in our division. We are going to have a very fine show."

PAIR OF REDS FOUND GUILTY.

Magnos Twice Convicted of Incendiary Utterances.

Each May Get Ten Years in the Penitentiary.

Brothers Have Prison Record in Two Countries.

Enrique Flores Magon and Ricardo Flores Magon, were convicted in the Federal Court yesterday of circulating matter calculated to incite arson, murder and assassination.

There were three counts in the indictment, and the defendants were found guilty on the last two. The maximum penalty is ten years in the penitentiary and a fine of $10,000 for each of the brothers.

On account of the sensational scenes on the occasion of the conviction of the defendants four years ago, United States Marshal Walton took no chances with a demonstration of the local backers of the prisoners. A dozen policemen were scattered through the room when the jury returned a verdict.

NO DEMONSTRATION.

But there was not the semblance of a demonstration. Miss Lucille Norman, the firebrand, sat by the side of the defendants. Ricardo Flores Magon, and half his hand while the verdict was being read. When the fateful words of guilty were pronounced, she looked distressed, and clutched the hand of Magon brother, who looked distraught but there was no sign from them.

Barbaric. IN CLUTCH OF THE TROPICS.

Husband Prefers Uncivilized
Lands to Family.

Strange Story Wins Divorce for His Wife Here.

He's Buried in the Heart of Central America.

The remarkable story of a husband who loved the tropics better than his wife and child was told in the divorce court of Mrs. Myrtha K. Hollenbeck against Fred T. Hollenbeck, tried by Judge Wood yesterday. The charge was desertion, a story blotted by the tears and pleading of the wife.

The Hollenbecks were married at San Diego, March 28, 1904. A daughter, Rosemary, now 9 years old came to live with the mother. In 1908 the little family moved from California to San Diego, Central America. On this wild and desolate coast Rosemary fell ill of malarial fever. Mr. Hollenbeck's health became poor in the tropical climate.

Upon the advice of physicians and the consent of his wife, Mrs. Hollenbeck decided to return to California with her daughter. She was left to go without her husband. She begged him to straighten out his affairs and leave Central America. She agreed to live any place in the world, if he would return with her.

But no. The tropics had bit deep into his soul. He was made manager of the Maricao Mining Company and when he had gone by to his wife and child, he went into the interior, 300 miles from civilization. For one year he sent money to his wife. Then she did not hear from him for three years. She frequently wrote him, begging for a word as to his purpose and when his answer came, he evaded the question. Mr. Hollenbeck did make a flying visit to Los Angeles in December, 1913. Mrs. Hollenbeck hurried to his relatives where he was stopping to see him. She begged him to leave the tropics. He told her he could not live in a civilized country. Where he was he said he knew a white woman could not stand the climate.

Mr. Hollenbeck returned to the tropics. A year ago he wrote her to go as far as she liked in arranging her marital affairs. Life was intolerable as it was, and she fled the divorce court. Judge Wood granted the decree.

DRILLING REVIVED.

Uniform Band of Several Fraternal Orders to Compete for Prize Cup and Privilege of Leading Lodges in the Big Parade.

The Preparedness Parade to occur June 14 has a salutary effect on many fraternal organizations, awakening the old competitive marching spirit and turning attention to the uniformed ranks of numerous organizations that formerly boasted many excellent drill masters.

On Friday and Saturday four uniformed companies, representing the Knights of Pythias, Fraternal Brotherhood, Independent Order of Foresters and the Macabees, will contest for a trophy cup at Redondo Beach. While the men will drill for the cup they will also be preparing for the Preparedness Parade.

For many years the four companies of uniformed fraternal men, numbering nearly 400 men, together with a drum and bugle band, representing the Preparedness Parade, have been in the possession of the Fraternal Brotherhood, interest in the drill having flagged.

Friday, at 7:30 p.m. the four companies will give an exhibition parade in this city, marching from First and Broadway to Seventh, to Spring and back to First street. The following morning will occur the drill for the cup.

In addition to the privilege of holding the cup for a year the successful company will have the added honor of leading the fraternal lodges in the big parade on Flag Day. H. A. Murphy of the Knights of Pythias, H. C. Rupp of the Fraternal Brotherhood, F. Lunn of the Foresters, and J. W. Hilton of the Macabees are the drill masters. The Trophy Cup Committee is composed of Gen. George E. Adolph, Maj. C. E. Kirk, Samuel Brown, Frank Gentry and Col. Kenton A. Miller. All of the men on the committee are experts in the subject of military drill. Mr. Adolph having served in a similar capacity for more than twelve years.

MRS. MOJONIER DEAD.

Mrs. Anna Mojonier, widow of August Mojonier, and mother of A. Louis Mojonier, local photographer, passed away yesterday at the residence of her son, No. 428 South Lake street. Mrs. Mojonier had been ill for several months. She was 73 years old. Arrangements for the funeral services will be completed today.

AGED MINSTREL TO LIVE HERE.

Hughy Dougherty, One-time Favorite, Coming to Make Home with Daughter.

Hughy Dougherty, famous minstrel of olden days, now in his seventy-fourth year, yesterday made Philadelphia good-bye and started for Los Angeles, to spend his remaining days with his daughter, Mrs. Evalina Rutland, in this city. For many years the aged minstrel has been living in the Quaker City, where many of his successes were made. Mr. Dougherty is accompanied by a special bodyguard of two faithful friends, who have undertaken to see he is delivered safely to his daughter here. He is due to arrive in Los Angeles Saturday afternoon.

Women in Parade.

To set a record in more ways than one.

Plans for the great procession began to take a concrete form yesterday afternoon. Grand Marshal Bernard Dyas and Herbert L. Cornish, chairman of the Parade Committee, held a meeting of their aides in the headquarters in the H. W. Hellman Building. When the cohorts had gathered it was discovered that the headquarters were not large enough, so Mr. Cornish immediately arranged for the addition of three other rooms on the same floor.

The various trades were split into divisions yesterday and marshals appointed. Of these men, almost all have accepted. Others found it necessary to consult with other members of their organizations before signifying their consent.

It is the intention of Grand Marshal Dyas to have the units of the various divisions report direct to his division commanders instead of to headquarters. The division commanders will then report to the grand marshal. In this manner all confusion will be avoided. In the future, the grand marshal will be the only man at all to say or anything to ask, should seek out his division officers.

DIVISION COMMANDERS.

The continuity of the parade, or the way in which it will form, has not yet been decided. The division commanders and their divisions appointed yesterday, are as follows:

At Club Wallace Nicol. Automobile supplies, E. A. Featherstone. Aeronautical division, Earl Remington. Bankers and brokers, J. C. Drake. Builders, contractors and engineers, John Treanor, R. H. Arnold, J. H. Bean.

City officers, P. P. O'Brien. Chamber of Commerce, Frank Wiggins. Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Louis Molera. Clubs, J. J. Jenkins. Clergymen, Rev. Baker, F. Lee. Cleaners and dyers, Paul Sidenor. Cafes and restaurants, William Schneider. Dry goods and department stores, E. W. Lewis.

Druggists and chemists, L. N. Brunner. Federal officers and employees, United States Marshal Charles T. Walton. Fire department—Chief Archie Eley. Furniture and carpets—J. R. White, Jr. Hardware and hatters—G. R. Lounsbury. Hardware and metal workers—Rugene Haskell. Hotel men—Vernon Goodwin. Physicians and opticians—John Luckenbach. Judges and lawyers—Frank F. Doherty. Lighting companies—J. Harry Peiper. Lodges and fraternal orders—Frank E. Hahn. Monterey training camp—H. S. McKee. National Guard—Brig. Gen. Robert Wankowski. Painters and decorators—C. W. Chellis. Paper—F. M. Couch. Piano—Fred Peterson. Physicians and surgeons—Dr. George H. Kress. Public accountants—Harry Baskin. Printers—W. P. Jeffries. Produce exchange—Chester Thompson. Real estate—W. W. Minna. Sporting goods—Ed Tufts. Steam, water and gas—G. W. Neal. Street railway employees—Louis Lieber. Tailors—A. K. Brauer. Transportation—E. W. McGee. Wholesale and retail grocers—J. A. Jovan. Women's organizations—Josephine Galbreath. Unattached—H. G. Krohn and Luther Bevers.

The divisions whose leaders have not as yet been appointed by grand marshal Dyas and his aides are the athletic schools, patriotic bodies, Red Cross, rubber goods, saddlery and findings, stationary, wine and spirits, electrical and hides and leather. The commanders for these divisions will be appointed today, so that the various units may start getting ready.

D. E. Luther of the Y.M.C.A. announced yesterday that his organization will be well represented in the parade. A special meeting of the Parade Committee will be held at noon today at headquarters.

WATER BOARD IN LINE.

The Public Service Commission yesterday received the formal invitation of the Preparedness Parade Committee to participate in the great event scheduled for Flag Day, and promptly accepted. The commission determined that this should be a general holiday for all employees under its control, and that they shall be asked to participate in the parade. Every member of the commission signified his intention of being in line when the parade started. There are between 1500 and 2000 employees in the departments controlled by the commission.

The Municipal Council, U.S.W.V., was busy yesterday lining up the four Los Angeles city camps and fifteen county camps, getting ready to take their part in the great parade. Dr. Howard Seeger, president of the council, announced last night his organization will have 1100 men in line, headed by its own band. The marshal of this division will be elected tonight at a meeting to be held in Dr. Seeger's office, suite 418 Investment Building. All veterans of the Spanish-American War, whether members of the organization or not, are expected to be in line.

OIL STATION PLANS.

Standard Oil Men Working for Right of Way for Pipe from Plant at El Segundo that will go Away with Barge Run to West Basin.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, June 6.—Representatives of the Standard Oil Company were here today on business in connection with the purchase of a right of way for the pipe line to be built from the El Segundo refinery to the distributing station near under construction in the West Basin. A twenty-foot strip through the Western ranch has been purchased for $1400.

The distributing station here will be made one of the most important on the Pacific Coast. The government has purchased large quantities of the El Segundo oil for use on the Atlantic and the orders have been filed here, the oil being brought by barge. The new pipe line will make the use of barge unnecessary.

SITE BOUGHT FOR BIG VERNON BOX FACTORY.

COMPULLED by the expansion of its manufacturing and business operations to seek larger quarters, the R. W. Fridman Company, manufacturers of paper boxes and shipping cases, will within the next few weeks start the construction of a large factory in the Vernon industrial district. The company closed a deal for the site yesterday, paying $10,000 for three acres lying along the south side of Pacific boulevard, adjoining the plant of the Southern Board and Paper Company on the east. The purchase was made from the Factory site Company, which was represented in the transaction by its manager, W. H. Daum.

The Fridman interests expect to make an outlay of approximately $100,000 on their new plant, building at the start a structure covering 50,000 square feet, or two acres, of floor space. This building will be of fireproof construction and two stories in height over most of its extent. A large amount of new machinery will be required by the company in its Vernon plant.

The history of the R. W. Fridman Company is like that of several other of the leading industries of Los Angeles that have arisen from small beginnings. Organized in 1882, the company had its first quarters in a single room on North Spring street opposite Franklin. Here it remained for four years, going then to North Los Angeles street, near Commercial. Four years later a second move was made, the firm going this time to Second and Main.

Three years later, the company moved to a building on North Los Angeles, near First, where it remained until nine years ago, when it went to its present location, at No. 112 to 124 North Center street. At this time the concern occupies some 60,000 square feet of space, but this has for the past two or three years been inadequate to its requirements. The need for new space has become all the more imperative since a year and a half ago when the company began reaching out for manufacturing territory, with Los Angeles as headquarters. At that time Judge Taft was called on by a violation of the neutrality laws, and all four sent to McNeil's Island.

rite to murder, arson and assassination.

The activities of the Magon brothers and their various partners, along the line of an anarchistic propaganda calculated to make trouble for the authorities, have covered several years. Ricardo Flores Magon and Enrique Flores Magon are Mexican born. They are restless spirits and their first troubles were in the City of Mexico, where they were arrested a number of times and thrown into prison for arousing the people and others against the government by President Porfirio Diaz.

Later they went to St. Louis, Mo., where they continued their propaganda of unrest and resistance to the authorities and began a campaign that later on, in Arizona, resulted in the arrest of Ricardo Flores Magon, Antonio J. Villareal and Liberado Rivera, and their trial before Judge Fletcher M. Doane, in Tombstone, in May, 1909. The charge against them was a violation of the neutrality laws, and they were convicted, all serving terms at the Yuma Penitentiary and later on at Florence.

Four years ago, Ricardo Flores Magon, Enrique Flores Magon, Anselmo Figueroa and Liberado Rivera were convicted before a jury in Judge Taft's court, for a violation of the neutrality laws, and all four sent to McNeil's Island.

How a "living trust" can prevent the loss of your fortune.

Scores of new millionaires have been made during the past year. Will these men retain their quickly-made millions? Thousands of men build up fortunes ranging from $10,000 to $1,000,000—but, few are able to preserve these fortunes for themselves or their heirs.

The estates of many men, although kept intact until death, are quickly lost by their heirs, who know little or nothing about sound business principles. This could be averted by the "living trust"—a simple trust agreement that protects a man against what is often his worst enemy—himself.

It protects him and his family while he lives, and also his heirs after he passes on. It prevents the dissipation of his fortune by his heirs, because the estate will be held in trust and managed in a businesslike manner, under State supervision, by a responsible, experienced trust company. ## SPEDING UP LAGGARD LAW.

Superior Court Takes Steps to Hasten Litigation.

Law and Motion Matters All Go to One Judge.

Specializing to be Scheme of Assigning Cases.

After considering and rejecting many methods of facilitating litigation which is crowding the courts, the judges at a recent session decided on a radical change, which includes assigning law and motion matters to one judge, segregating staple actions and assigning them to certain departments, and causing juries in civil cases to report to one department, and assigning them to the departments requiring their services.

Judge Jackson will hear law and motion matters. By this method he will have but one department to go to. This will save the various departments of all law and motion matters, making it possible for the trial of suits heard on Mondays in the several departments.

Judge Wallborn will hear mechanical liens and red light abatement cases.

ADVANTAGE OF EXPERIENCE.

Judge Hewitt, who has had a wide experience as City Attorney, will hear street liens and actions involving improvements under the Vroch and other acts.

Judge Taft will try unlawful detainer cases.

Judge Shink, quiet title cases and foreclosures of mortgages, will try the registrations.

Judge Flanagan and Works, justice court appeals.

Case other than these staples will be assigned in rotation, as at present.

According to the proposed method of handling cases, the saving to the county in the proposed method of handling cases will be $10,000 a year, if the criminal courts are included.

CUT DOWN FEES.

It is also proposed to cut down fees allowed in civil proceedings. At present these fees are the same as those allowed in probate and in the criminal courts.

According to the proposed method of handling cases, the saving to the county in the proposed method of handling cases will be $10,000 a year, if the criminal courts are included.

GRAND LODGE MEETS.

Colored Masons of California Open Session Here and Chapter of Colored Order Also Convened.

The sixty-second annual convention of the Grand Lodge of the Colored Masons of California was opened at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning, with an address of welcome by Mayor Sweeney, and a reception by the Rev. J. D. Gordon, secretary of the Grand Lodge.

There were more than 100 delegates from the various lodges of the state, and the parade that formed the Masonic Temple, which was the main feature of the celebration, was a grand affair. The parade was led by the Grand Lodge, followed by the various lodges, and the celebration will adjourn Thursday.

SOCIETY.

That her friends might have the opportunity to meet and welcome to Los Angeles Mrs. Charles H. Jeffers, a sister who has just come from New York to live, Mrs. W. J. Chichester is giving a series of pretty teas. Yesterday a number responded to the invitation extended most informally by telephone, for exhibiting her usual thoughtfulness and realizing the suffering and sorrow all about us these days as a result of war. Mrs. Chichester prefers to keep her hospitality along simple lines. And it is quite possible for her to do so in charming sociability without extravagance, turning the unnecessary expenditures into helpful avenues. There were flowers from the garden—an abundance of gay colors to lend artistry to the attractive home—Mrs. C. C. Stanton, Mrs. Maurice, Mrs. William Rodman and Mrs. C. C. Carpenter.

As Mary Gray, Mrs. Jeffers visited this city when a young eastern schoolgirl. In fact, it was here she met her husband, then here for the winter. That they are to make the City of the Angels their home will be joyful news to friends made at that time.

Mrs. Chichester also entertained Tuesday of last week and is already planning another afternoon, that additional guests may meet Mrs. Jeffers.

Honoring a Visitor.
A pretty courtesy was extended yesterday by Mrs. E. A. Nauder of No. 1513 Rockwood street, to Miss Lillian Campbell of Oakland, who is being much entertained these days as the house guest of Mrs. William Walker of Bonnie Brae street. About forty enjoyed tea, amid a wealth of marigolds and bachelor buttons. Miss Constance Muir, Miss Beale Westphall, Miss Elizabeth Barrett, Miss Zola Davis, Miss Fern Fry and Miss Edith Mackie assisting.

Miss Campbell's father is the poet laureate of Oakland, who has included Los Angeles in his list of inspirations poetic, and is well known to many of our residents.

To Take Alaska Trip.
Mrs. Frank B. Hanger of Oxford boulevard, one of our most charming of the younger matrons, is leaving in early July for Alaska, making the famous inland voyage.

All in Pink.
Extending gracious hospitality to ten ladies, Mrs. Arthur Wright of No. 1339 West Twenty-seventh street, was a luncheon hostess at the Los Angeles Athletic Club Thursday.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Robert Moulton, Mrs. Miguel Estrella of Riverside, Mrs. Thomas H. Ince, Mrs. William Brill, Miss Ruth Wolfkill, Mrs. Rose Lashbrook, Mrs. Milo Baker, Mrs. Vera Carter, Mrs. William Niven and the hostess. The board was massed in fragrant sweet peas in dainty pink tones, bordered in coronas of Cecil Brunner roses and maidenhair. Following luncheon, a matinee party at the Orpheum was enjoyed.

To See California Right.
Mrs. Kate E. Clement is a visitor in the home of her nephew, Harry E. Dawson of No. 4154 Selma avenue, and yesterday became the possessor of a pretty Chanter's car, with the purpose of seeing California.

At the Best Home.
At their home, No. 4025 West Adams street, Mr. and Mrs. A. Leona recently, covers being laid for Dr. and Mrs. George H. Kress, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Seely, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Crenshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Clair S. Tappan and themselves. Radiant coronas brightened the handsomely appointed board.

For Their Daughter.
Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Rubenstein of No. 1728 North Wilton place are receiving this afternoon in honor of the confirmation of their daughter, Cecelia.

Leaving for a Visit.
Dr. and Mrs. William Niven of No. 529 South Manhattan place are leaving shortly for the East, stopping en route at the Grand Canyon and at Mrs. Niven's parental home in Glenwood, Minn., where they will attend the wedding of her sister, Miss Harriet Thatcher, who is to marry Guy Meeker of Minneapolis the last of June. Miss Thatcher was a visitor in Los Angeles some years ago and made many friends at that time, who will be much interested in her approaching nuptials. The wedding will return to the city in the autumn.

Honeymooning.
Dan B. Schenck stole a march on his friends by getting married at Santa Ana yesterday without informing anyone, to Mrs. Myrtle M. Sook. Mrs. Sook is the daughter of Mrs. Louisa, widow of the late Justice Frederick Sook. Mr. Schenck has been with the Southern Pacific for a number of years and is now leaving for his honeymoon.

At Castle Santa Soledad.
Dr. and Mrs. Schloesser threw open their beautiful home in Hollywood to the Masons and their ladies last Saturday evening. About 300 accepted the hospitality of these charming hosts and enjoyed the pictures and art treasures which have made Santa Soledad one of the show places of Southern California.

An entertaining programme was given, with Jacques Sidoroff acting as master of ceremonies. Miss Starr sang beautiful ballads and responded to enthusiastic applause with musical monologues. Mrs. Alex Schloesser, well-known dramatic reader, gave a monologue, "Aunt Miranda on Women on Juries," followed by clever child impersonations.

On behalf of the Masons, Robert Young and Mr. Redwine made a few remarks and a number of witty stories were told.

Marguerite and Rose Geraniums decked the punch tables and an Italian harpist played throughout the evening.

Another June Bride.

With Rev. Lampert officiating, a pretty wedding was solemnized Monday evening at the Vincent Methodist Church, when Miss Estelle Edwards of San Diego became the bride of Arnold M. Z. Des Plantes of this city. Miss Estelle, dressed in pink messaline and oriental lace, and carrying an armful of pink sweet peas, was bridesmaid, and Benjamin Martin of San Diego best man, with little Ruth Clapp of Pasadena ring bearer.

The bride was becomingly gowned in ivory satin charmeselle veiled in chintilly, and wore a tulle veil. Her shower bouquet was of bride's roses and white sweet peas.

The happy young couple received congratulations of their friends at a reception tendered after the ceremony by the ladies of the club. The dinner was served in the dining room, and the groom was chorister for two years, giving to them, among many lovely presents.

Upon their return from a honeymoon they are to be at home in Los Angeles, where Mrs. Des Plantes is associated with the Early V. Lewis Company.

Sociability.
The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Mathias Church will meet at the club on Wednesday afternoon, when an informal programme will be presented and refreshments served. Those attending will be Mrs. Gordon Norman, vocalist; Mrs. Lionel Van Derlin, reader; Mrs. George Williams, pianist; and Master Leon Kantowski, pupil of Mrs. Edith Lillian Clark.

For the Belgians.
The friends for the children of Belgium and Northern France should be materially increased after the tea to be given Friday afternoon at the clubroom of the Alexandria, for many prominent society women are reserving tables for the affair.

Each room of the hotel is the smartest of the season.

Mrs. J. M. Danziger, whose three children will be the guests of the present relief campaign possible, will be in charge, and she is planning to make over of her own pleasure.

Miss Una Fleming, the dainty ballerina of the California Grand Opera company, will be the guest of honor at the exhibition dancing, and there will be special music of a high order.

For Guests.
To meet Carol Troyer, the eminent composer of Indian music, from San Francisco, Mrs. Rita Green Breeze of Las Vegas, who is doing the lyrics for a new Indian opera, Mrs. Gloria Mayne and other residents at her home on Burlington at Seventh street last night. A large cortege of guests were bidden.

Good Casting.
Like Dickens types.

QUAINT CHARACTERIZATION IN "NOTORIOUS GALLAGHER."

By Grace Kingsley.

It Charles Dickens, portrayed of types, could view William Nigh in "Notorious Gallagher," at the Symphony this week, he would certainly (for apparently he was an expansive gentleman) weep for joy. Nigh, as the half-witted Gallagher, is not only suggested the rather and the appealingness of "Joe," of "Tom-Alone's" in "Bleak House," and the quivering of the cornering of "Mick," the "Nicholas Nickleby," giving a characterization which is a gem of photodramatic art.

It is the splendid, indeed, which raises this rather illogical, somewhat involved and jerky melodrama into the class of pictures which are worth watching. All the types are most happily chosen, both for acting and looks. Marguerite Snow has negligible role, but plays it adequately.

Los Angeles Delegates to Philadelphia Convention.

Which will be awarded the club sending the most members the greatest aggregate distance to the twelfth international gathering of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World in the Quaker City. Those in the picture, left to right, are Harold Jans, president of the Los Angeles Advertising Club; Harry Carroll, William M. Kreim, James G. Sprecher, Mrs. Virginia Thomson, Bruce O. Bliven, Charles E. Bireley, A. A. Buterworth.

ADVERTISING CLUB BIDS GOOD-BY TO DELEGATES.

WITH ukulele solos, phonograph songs, tests, various addresses and the usual excellent luncheon, the Los Angeles Advertising Club said "good-by" yesterday, at the Clark, to its delegates to the twelfth annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, which will be held in Philadelphia, in the 25th to 28th inst.

The convention will be perhaps the first to convene on the day of worship. At 8 o'clock Monday evening a parade of the 10,000 delegates will be held in the Quaker City, and will include Santa, pagents and other features.

The visitors will see the military and naval maneuvers at the Philadelphia navy yard, Wednesday. The club will be entertained with a trip to Willow Grove Park, Thursday.

Heart-stirring.

"Preparedness" Vivid Lesson in Patriotism.

Shows Terrible Plight Should Foreign Foe Invade.

Will be Presented Daily for Week at Empress.

What would happen to America were she invaded by a foreign foe in her present defenseless condition will be graphically shown during "Preparedness" week at Quin's Empress, starting next Monday, in order to impress upon Los Angeles citizens the need of urging their representatives in Congress to demand a national policy of providing for defense against invasion.

Preparedness advocates have sent out tons of literature on the subject; speakers have dilated at great length on our national needs, and millions of letters have been written, but now come to Los Angeles the most realistic exposition of what lack of preparedness will mean.

It does not come in dry as dust facts and figures, in uninteresting statistics, but instead, in a big, vital photodrama, which out terrible plight should a foreign foe invade our land is pictured in every heart-rendering detail.

America's foremost actors were chosen by J. Stuart Blackton of the hearted and two surviving loving hearts had no marriage.

Admitting that poor Maud goes to the dole in Tennessee's poem, should not the author of this script have dealt ruthlessly with the text, in order to deal more happily with the public? He wasn't making literature, but trying to build a motion-picture drama. Besides, it is not good drama to kill people off, or shut them up in a sunnery, unless they have done something to deserve it.

This picture of lavish incidental beauty, has another major fault, which is, that in his joy over suspense, it is too reluctant to advance. I am very sure the poor little mother suffers needlessly in recovering that she is the mother of her own son. Anyway, "Naked Hearts" is a picture of much beauty and of the feeling being clean and full of yearning, and Rupert Julian is an exceedingly good actor. Douglas Girard has a fine minute in his death scene, and Francella Billington is a heroine of loveliness.

Tally's Broadway.
People who know the fragile, exquisite art of "The Poor Little Rich Girl" will be very much interested in what seems to be a film version of this endearing story at Tally's Broadway this week, with so good an actor as Robert Warwick, as the father, and a lovely little Madge Evans, as the child.

They will probably be surprised that the child's dreams are not given and that the badness of the parents is exploited at painful and sensational lengths. From the picture play-building viewpoint, this was the story to do in order to make it a picture of growth-up and for growth-up, but this emphasis has cost the piece much of its charm without adding anything to its lesson.

It is called "Sudden Riches" and the name has to its justification, except that the parents are really more wicked—in fact, they are rather too tainted to have the happiness of such a little girl in their hands.

This philosophy is interesting in spite of its faults, is a good lesson to parents who neglect their children for society, sin and finance, and recommends one to moderate circumstances, if not to poverty. Of course, being so ardently poor is quite a feat, and a little thing like this in advance that you are going to see the parents of a poor little girl who is a lady here, is a rather disappointing. If you watch one on a slip of a drama, you will like the picture.

Psychic?
Mechanical Spirits.

Exposure of "Mediums" Tricks is a Funny, Yet Fascinating, Process That Leaves the Beholder with a Feeling He is Easily Deceived.

E. Coran Marshall, in "Behind the Scenes with the Mediums," at Trinity Auditorium this week, might better term himself an iconoclast. He breaks many images, especially those of the psychic variety. His exposure of alleged psychic phenomena is interesting and amusing.

single scale effect.

Fortunes were spent in the battle scenes; entire of battlefields changed their to aid the backers of the mammoth reproductions of national structures, both of the past and the present, while the corps of cannon ground away, securing most remarkable scenes.

The picture has often been called the drama, military government gave the new equipment. War officials too glad of the chance to home to the people in a lesson of getting ready.

It points the lesson that for war is the best lesson peace, and had America war before the heat of the war set foot on her soil, she would have been a great power.

From time to time the picture is interrupted in a subtle way America's comparison with that of other nations, and the picture is a picture of acting and big situations, have already roused the audience of the picture to a high degree of interest.

OTTO HESS IS RUSHED TO RESCUE BUT FINDS HARRY WOLVERTON'S FORCES TOO STRONG FOR HIM.

Gleichmann Does Best to Score but Pitcher Forgets.

While much is not known concerning Kellogg, the new southpaw, he is a whale physically, and can certainly lam the pill. Kellogg once had a brief trial in the majors, and then dropped from sight. Blakenburg dug him out of the "dustbin" a short time ago. It was in the tall grass that he found Walter Johnson and "Bullet" Joe Bush, and he has a lot of faith in the strong young men with hayseed in their hair.

Calcutt, the new infielder secured from Seattle, arrived here yesterday, and will be in uniform today. He is to be used as a utility performer, according to present plans.

"We were badly crippled last week," said the Salt Lake skipper. "With our regular line-up in the field we would have taken the series by a comfortable margin, and came out with a 4-1 record. With Orr out, I was forced to use Brief at short, and Kellogg at first. Brief, a new at short, while playing a good fielding game, lost a lot of tricks. Twice on the hit-and-run he left an opening in going over to cover too soon, and the loss of two games can be traced directly to this. I think you will find that the Bees will yet have to be figured."

Last season as late as July 30 the Bees were in last place. History repeats itself. They finished a game-up second. Whether or not history will repeat in their case, they have reached us to repeat it.

Much is heard about so-and-so placing his hit, but they are a very rare species. The home side place hitter is more uncommon than generally believed. Rube Ellis says that Johnny Bassler is one of the few that he has ever seen, either in the minors or majors. "When Bassler is going to hit to a certain spot he is going to come about as near doing it as any man that ever lived," said Rube.

As will be recalled, Chance, McCredie and Ward were fired out of Saturday's game. McCredie and Ward received fines of $5 each, while Chance was placed with a ten-spot.

When Umpire Jack Doyle visited the box office to enter the fines from the receipts, he was surprised that all had not been paid. "Why did you fine Chance twice as much as the others?" he asked. "Because of his past history," replied Doyle, pocketing the receipts. Jack's philosophy is both grim and expensive.

Young Hackenschmidt is the undefeated light heavyweight wrestling champion of America. He is now filling a vaudeville engagement at the Republic Theater and has issued an open challenge to any local wrestler.

"Ball and Chain" is the name of a new play by Sadie Cowan, which Manager Oliver Morosco will produce either at the Burbank or the Morosco. From a psychological viewpoint it is much on the order of "Montmartre," the story dealing with the underworld of New York. The story begins at a point where a girl is rescued by marriage. The piece has a happy ending.

Succoed Bennett.

Courtesy Poole, a London actor of some renown, who has been appearing in pictures during the past year, will have the leading male role in "Upstairs and Down" next week at the Morosco.

Faye Society Home.

Grace Travers will have the part of a society woman in "Upstairs and Down."

Fashion Note.

And Miss Travers will wear a bathing suit in the second act. It is not at all a "practicable" bathing suit, being a stunning violet George crepe affair, and the popular actress refers to it as "a bathing evening gown."

I asked them if they wouldn't change it to a golf gown," said Miss Travers, "but they were adamant."

Grace Hodgins from East.

Grace Travers will be withdrawn from the cast of "The Brat" Thursday, and Gertrude Matland will go to San Francisco in her place with the play.

Succoed Eddie.

Paul Harvey, who made a big hit in "Officer 666" at the Burbank last week, and who looks like a coming Los Angeles matinee idol, or this column misses its guess, has one of those "so-so-are-my-woman" cavemen roles in "Upstairs and Down."

Welcome Ida.

Ida St. Leon, one of the most popular of the Morosco players, who has been absent from the stage during the run of "The Brat," returns to play a dashing housemaid (of course it is only on the stage that housemaids are allowed to dash) and dust the noses off the sunbeams in the new Matland play.

Art Report.

We actually go to the theater nowadays to view the scenery! Anyhow, no to who Robert McQuinn, who designed the fascinating scenery of "Canary Cottage," produced it. This is no exaggeration, since the Dillinghams, New York producers, have given McQuinn carte blanche to go ahead with three scenic sets for next season's Hippodrome revue, promising to have the sets written to fit the scenery.

Just like Vincent Crummins and his pump in "Nicholas Nickleby!" One of them will be a California scene, the artist promises, either founded on mission life or some other distinctive western phase.

McQuinn is a man of vision, and knows how to adapt all schools of art to his particular field.

At present he is busy designing and overseeing the painting of the scenery for "Upstairs and Down." One of the settings calls for one of those too-good-to-be-believed-in-kitchens of the disingenuous rich, with its marble walls and gold doors and a "practicable" porch, which promises to be a work of art.

Working for Gertrude, too.

Robert McQuinn is working on an act for the new Gertrude Hoffman revue which that dancer is to use next season. In case the Max Reinhardt production does not go through, in this act Dresden-china figures will be used. It is to be a pantomime production.

Busted Arm Won't Kill.

George Foster Platt, head of the Lasky scenario department, who was injured in the recent auto wreck in which several of the Lasky people were killed, had a very unpleasant experience Monday. When the splints and bandages were removed from his fractured arm it was found not well enough to be used for several weeks yet.

Platt is a great friend of Mrs. Montrose and Grace Travers (Mrs. Montrose) having been Miss Travers's first stage director. Yesterday Montrose received a letter in which Platt said: "The dot-blasted thing has refused to knit, so now I've got to go around with my arm in a sling for another three weeks. Good thing I like the color of that sling, dark blue, which you and Mrs. Montrose helped pick out."

Hope to Forestall Jinx.

A brave, may be Manager Oliver Morosco. He has at the Morosco a trio of red heads, Joe Montrose, manager Robert Miller, stage director, and Mary Serrano, leading woman. But the polo pony used in the new play is white, so it's hoped it'll be all right after all.

Not Catty at All.

"Anything can happen if she is an 'over-tone' in that high-brow sketch at the Orpheum, has a lot of human, not to say primitive, traits. To be sure she loves the effete affair of bridges, but she's also a baseball fan, and she likes to climb mountain peaks in her spare time."

Lots Happened.

"Anything can happen in vaudeville in ten minutes," exclaims Laurie of the course of their sparkling act at the Orpheum this week.

"And just everything did, on Monday," said Laurie yesterday. "We forgot some of the props for Miss Bronson's trick purse; I got a telegram with bad financial news from home when I stepped off the stage a minute, and Miss Bronson twisted her wrist a bit when she sat down on the stage."

"And that isn't all," went on Miss Bronson, "for we pretty nearly won a nearly as good second-hand car in a tied cross-rifle last night."

Not Impulsive at All.

Miss Steele's fall in "The Three Little Pigs" at the Orpheum, isn't nearly as impulsive as it looks. In fact, it isn't impulsive at all, but entirely made to order. So much so that she practiced it for three weeks with a set before she attempted it on the hard floor.

Expensive Scenery.

The drop set used by the Kinema Japs at the Hippodrome was the work of twenty-five Japanese girls working under the direction of a noted Tokio artist, and required six months to complete. It cost $4000.

Their Native Tongues.

Eddie Love is a great baseball fan and also an old college chum of Walter Kelly, the two having been at school at Santa Clara College at the same time. Kelly puts his knowledge of geometrical figures to practical use on the baseball field, and Eddie used his knowledge of astronomy to become a star. Kelly, Kelly and three cheers Eddie in

"The Brat," and Eddie goes out to the game and three cheers Walter whenever he gets a chance.

"Your batting average is getting better every day," said Walter admiringly to Eddie, the other day. "And I notice you answered three curtain calls yesterday yourself!" retorted Eddie. "Better look out or the big time will get you."

Real Coincidence.

For the first time in the history of motion pictures, probably, an admiral of the United States Navy has acted, that is, actually performed before the camera. It happened at Universal City the other day. The admiral was visiting the famous city with a number of the officers of the fleet.

Directed George Cochrane was making the scenes of a stock exchange picture. The admiral had deserted his party and was standing close by the set. Cochrane glanced up and saw a distinguished looking man, didn't wait to find out who he was, but asked upon him as a type. The admiral didn't reveal his identity, but just acquiesced. When the scene was finished, Cochrane put his hand on the supposed actor's shoulder, and told him he would make a very good actor in time.

"If you could just manage to look a little more severe," went on Cochrane. "I think you would be very good indeed as a soldier!"

War Echoes.

One of our houses were first shattered by British and insurgent shells and then were burned to the ground," wrote the mother of Douglas Gerrard in a letter, telling him of the recent short-lived revolt of the Irish in Dublin.

The letter states that several conflicts occurred around the Gerrard house, which took fire after they had been shelled, and soon were a mass of charred timbers.

Cyclone Williams took the honors over Mr. George Rivers in a lively four-rounder.

The match between Frankie Monroe and Bert Coffey, the well-up young squirt from San Francisco, introduced in some sort of a champion, was stopped in the second round and the Coffey kid was hissed out of the ring for slugging Monroe while he was on his knees.

Physical Culture Stuff.

It seemed like an earthquake of unusual duration, one day this week, in the big electric light studio at Universal City, but instead, it proved to be a boxing bout between "Keville" Morgan, 115 pounds, and "Kid" Sedgwick, who tips the beam at 160.

These "cuties" jabbed each other and bumped around like a couple of baby elephants for about ten minutes, and then the big fellows went away for a run down Laemmle boulevard and followed the sprint with a shower.

"Trying to get into my class," grinned "Keville" Morgan, as they passed him on the road.

No Hard Feelings.

Morris Merfeld, Jr., president of the Orpheum theaters, was entertained at Universal City this week by E. C. Patterson, secretary of the big film concern.

STATISTICAL STUFF.

Grylls Instruct Goodard and Featherstone of Los Angeles High are putting their men through a series of physical tests ordered by the State Board of Physical Education. Each one of the thousand students is made to take part in the running and standing broad jump, 160-yard dash and basket-shooting. The results will be averaged and the normality of the Hittoppers computed.

St. Louis will again strive to popularize boxing contests.

An Easy Mark.

very first swing caused the entertainment to cease.

NINE, TEN, ETC.

O'Laverly stopped the swing and the floor boards were all that stopped O'Laverly from falling clear through to China. The victorious Mr. Schwartz stepped into the middle of the ring and assisted in the act of removing the unnecessary scenery. All that was needed was a lily in Buck's hand at the time, some slow music and a reputable undertaker to make it a real funeral.

As Buck opened his eyes he looked as if he wanted to know who had upset Mr. Wilson on his home.

As he walked down the aisle, supported by two able seconds, he wobbled about a bit on his pins, and showed plainly that he needed a quiet resting place with a pillow for his sore radiator cap.

OBJECTIONABLE.

The only objectionable part of Jack Doyle's party last night was a ten-minute intermission. That was all right for George Leone, Jack Pickford, Charlie Chaplin, Fatty Voss, Pathe Lehman, Bob Leonard, Billy Cox, Bill Bright, Barney Furry, Tom Rooney, Carl Gliner and Jack Doyle, but as I am on the water wagon, it was a breach of etiquette on brother Jack's part, and I hope he don't do it again.

The opening fight of the evening was a four-round go between Young Gildeno of San Diego and Kid Frankie of this place. The San Diego boy won and he had it coming. Everybody was betting for him, thinking his name was Galliano.

Robby Mitchell pulled a decision over Kid Romeo in what was termed a naval battle by Billy Cox. It was an exhibition of body blows rendered with all the trimmings.

Cyclone Williams took the honors over Mr. George Rivers in a lively four-rounder.

The match between Frankie Monroe and Bert Coffey, the well-up young squirt from San Francisco, introduced in some sort of a champion, was stopped in the second round and the Coffey kid was hissed out of the ring for slugging Monroe while he was on his knees.

JACK NESS MAKES

GOOD WITH SOX.

(BY DESK WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 6.—Jack Ness has won a home for himself with the South side fans, the most loyal baseball rooters in the world. They are circulating a petition to hold a "Jack Ness day" while the Sox are home, when the big fellow will be honored by a band and a suitable present.

Ness, by the way, is plugging one of the weak spots on the club. Sold to Baltimore, almost without a trial, he refused to report and played with a local semi-pro club until the need of his presence was felt. Then he went into the regular line-up without much trail and has been going well ever since.

Ness has hit the ball hard and while not an extraordinary fielder, has flagged everything coming his way. Sunday he stopped a low throw by squatting in front of the weak spots on the club. ## JAPAN SENDING TENNIS SHARK.

CHAMPION OF ORIENT TO PLAY IN THIS COUNTRY.

Kumagae Writes Peck Griffin of His Intended Invasion—Walloped Latter in Par East—To Take Part in Tournament at Long Beach. To Go East Later.

(BY DESK WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 6.—Kumagae, oriental champion and one of the greatest tennis players ever developed in Japan, is due to arrive in San Francisco the first of next week. Kumagae is to make a tennis invasion of the United States and plans to participate in the important tournaments of the season.

Peck Griffin, the local player, who has made two tours to Japan, received a letter from Kumagae yesterday in which the arrival of the invader and his plans were made known. He left Yokohama on May 27 and is going some traveling to show his skill and ability on the courts.

Kumagae's first appearance will be in the Pacific Coast championships at Del Monte on June 17 to 20. He will enter the singles and local devotees of the net game are anxious to see him in action. The Japanese won the championship of the Far East last year by defeating Peck Griffin, and he holds victories over other well-known local players. He has competed against Willie Johnston, Ward Dawson and Carl Gardner, and they all agree that he gives promise of developing into a champion.

The Japanese is described as a short and stocky individual who wears glasses while playing tennis. He is very fast on his feet and plays a smashing game. The Japanese originally took up tennis with an ordinary rubber ball and in order to get it over the net they were forced to smash the ball and in this way their driving was improved wonderfully.

After Del Monte, Kumagae will go to Long Beach to play in the Coast doubles championship on July 4. He will find a suitable partner while playing in the singles. Then he will go East and enter all the important tournaments. He will make a try for the national title of the United States.

It is the first time that a Japanese player has invaded this country in quest of tennis laurels. They have made a stand in baseball, sending their letters to Sam Bears, Jack Kilburn, Orville Buck, John Cutcherson, Gene Davis, Gerald Vulture, Sam Van Culin, Chesley Carmichael and Arthur Summers.

Now that the excitement over the prep baseball title is past Polychrome High has decided to award emblems to its swimming team. The lucky guys who will soon receive their letters are Sam Bears, Jack Kilburn, Orville Buck, John Cutcherson, Gene Davis, Gerald Vulture, Sam Van Culin, Chesley Carmichael and Arthur Summers.
